

Māori suicide prevention:

Research, policy and practice

Māori suicide rates are at an all-time high

Explore and discuss the current evidence concerning Māori suicide with specific attention to the context of Māori suicide; Changing policies and practice based on published research as well as the intuitive knowledge and practices of our communities. The underlying focus is on making a contribution to Tino Rangatiratanga in Māori suicide prevention.

Register now for this Public Health Summer School symposium

Topics Include:

Tikanga Māori: - Whāea Moe Milne and Whāea Tihi Puanaki

Māori suicide in context: - Dr Moana Jackson and Dr Keri Lawson-Te Aho

The Treaty of Waitangi: - David Stone, Te Mata Law

The epidemiology of Māori suicide: - Associate Professor Bridget Robson

Māori suicide data: - Dr Ruth Cunningham

Research and evidence: - Dr Keri Lawson-Te Aho

National Suicide Prevention Strategy: - Carla na Nagara

The day includes panel discussions on honing our efforts towards prevention and postvention.

Monday 24 February 2020

University of Otago, Wellington | Mein Street | Newtown | Wellington

For more information:

Email keri.lawson-teaho@otago.ac.nz or visit otago.ac.nz/uowsummerschool

He Kakano Ahau i
Ruia Mai i Rangiatea

32 great courses

10-28 February 2020

otago.ac.nz/uowsummerschool

WELLINGTON