Date: 14th & 15st August 2021
Time: 08.00am – 17.00 pm
Venue: Owen G Glenn Building, University of Auckland

The Certificate of Advanced Dermatoscopy course is designed for GPs and nurses to take you from “zero to hero” (no pre-requisite course required) with our world leading professors and teachers. Our main speaker is Professor Cliff Rosendahl from the University of Queensland and the co-author of ‘Chaos and Clues’. This algorithm will provide you with a safe way to decide which lesions can be left and which require excising (this is achieved without needing to diagnose exactly what the lesion is). The algorithm is presented in a simple and easy to follow way with plenty of examples and repetition. Professor Rosendahl is ably joined by Professor Amanda Oakley, Dr Andrew MacGill (GPSI) and myself. We will make sure the content is relevant to General Practice.

On the completion of this symposium, you will have the knowledge to safely identify and manage all forms of skin cancers. On the completion of this symposium, you will have the knowledge to safely identify skin lesions that aren't benign and more often than not provide a specific diagnosis.

The course will be highly interactive and is well reviewed. Currently we have taught in excess of 1000 GPs in NZ, >200 GPs in Melbourne and over 300 in the UK, with an average rating of 4.7/5 for the course.
